His Work Was Done. Springfield, Mass., May 23.—Death has ended the career of Edward Bellamy, the writer and economist, the close taking place in Chicopee Falls Sunday. He had been in feeble health ever since he finished his "Equality" eight months ago. Indeed long before it was done he had the most significant warnings that his energies were being undermined, although it was not till August that his physicians definitely told him that one of his lungs was affected. At the earnest solicitations of his physicians and family he resolved to try the effect of the Colorado climate, and in September last removed with his family to Denver. He received, however, little or no benefit from the change, and when he recognized that recovery was impossible he became very anxious to get back to the homestead, where he was born and where he had lived his entire life. His brothers went to Denver to help him realize this wish, and on April 26, just a month ago, brought him back, very weak but very peaceful, to his old home. Mr. Bella 19 was born on March 26, 1850, and wa the third son of Rev. R. K. Bellamy, for 35 years the pastor of the Baptist church at Chicopee Falls. After spending some time at Union college, he completed his education by a year of European travel and study, and by the study of law. He was at 21 years of age admitted to the bar of Hampden county. From the legal profession he went into journalism, and for several years was assistant editor of the Springfield Union. From there he went to New York city to accept a position as editorial writer on the New York Evening Post, where he was engaged for about one year, when he returned to Springfield and in copartnership with his brother, C. J. Bellamy, started the Springfield Daily News. Meanwhile he published several books. In a Bad Way Anyhow. George Ober once overheard some acquaintances in the hotel lobby at Hastings-on-the-Hudson discussing the demise of one Bill Jones, a well known character in that lively country village. Ober immediately joined the group, whereupon the following conversation ensued: " 'Did I understand you to say Bill Jones was dead?

" 'Yep. Died last Thursday.'

" 'Is that possible?'

" 'Yes, that's right.' " 'So Bill Jones is dead. Well, well!" " 'Yes, he's dead.'

" 'Do you know, I can scarcely believe it, poor chap! Poor Bill! I knew him well. So he's really dead, is he?' " 'Well, if he ain't dead, he's in a darned bad predicament. I saw him buried.' "-Cleveland Plain Dealer.
